

2010-2011 SEASON SIX

BAROQUE ADVENTURES
IN THE 21ST CENTURY

Special Events

In addition to our six regular season programs, please join us for two special house concerts (not included in ticket packages). Our house concerts provide a special experience of Baroque chamber music in the intimate setting of a home. Space is limited, so please make your reservations early.

If Music be the Food of Love House Concert and Wine Tasting

Sunday February 13, 2011 5 pm
Hosted by Victoria Taylor | Greenwood Village
$100 per person

Soprano Amanda Balestrieri and harpsichordist Frank Nowell perform songs and suites by Henry Purcell in celebration of love. Wine enthusiast Stephen Anderson hosts an engaging and informal wine tasting, featuring a range of exceptional Syrahs appropriate to the winter season. Celebrate the eve of Valentine's Day with an unforgettable evening of music and wine!

Scarlatti and Me Spring House Concert

Sunday April 3, 2011 5 pm
Hosted by John and Deb McVicker | Lower Downtown Denver
$50 per person

Pianist-composer Toby Tenenbaum has created his own unique piano sonatas in the style of Baroque master Domenico Scarlatti. He will perform sonatas by both composers (Scarlatti and Tenenbaum) and share his 21st century exploration of an 18th-century master. Join us for our annual spring house concert in a beautiful LoDo setting with spectacular views!

Baroque Chamber Orchestra of Colorado is a period-instrument ensemble bringing to Colorado audiences the musical riches and spirit of improvisation of the 17th and 18th centuries. Praised for its "vitality, solid musicianship and warmth of sound" (Rocky Mountain News), and for "captivating, intimate music-making" (The Denver Post), the orchestra is led by harpsichordist Frank Nowell and violinist Cynthia Miller Freivogel. Audience members have praised the group's imaginative programming, which strikes a balance between familiar masterworks and hidden treasures. In addition to a subscription concert series, the orchestra provides an innovative educational program focusing on musician development and building the audience of the future.
